Major Fire Displacing Apartment Residents

By Levi Franklin, 9/17/21

A massive fire had taken place earlier this week in Bay Park in an apartment complex housing around 130 people. Of those people, only one person was seriously injured while others only suffered minor abrasions and smoke inhalation. Investigators are currently looking for the cause of the fire, but reports are coming in that there might be a suspect behind the disaster. Casandra, a resident currently living in the complex gave a statement saying, "I recall a man lurking around just a few days before the fire talking to some shady characters, saying something about putting dirt in someones eye." The description of the suspect is around 5'7", auburn hair, middle to late 30s, and was last seen wearing a red and blue jumpsuit.

If you have any information pertaining to the suspect, please contact the authorities immediately. People have reportedly spotted the suspect in red and blue all over the area, with superhuman capabilities. People have described the same man in the red and blue suit scaling walls without external help. Although these reports could be rumours, please stay alert and keep your head on a swivel.

The Affect of the Fire on the Community

The devastating fire has displaced many residents in the complex, leaving them with little to no options and no place to go. Not only this, but the fire has destroyed their belongings and sentimental items, leaving the residents devastated. Many have come together to start a GoFundMe to help get these people back on their feet. These trying times have been bringing the good out in people is showing that people are stronger together.

Since then, the fire has been resolved, but the worries and tribulations that the individuals and families face now are just beginning. The hearts of the community go out to them in this dire situation. If you're in the bay park area and can help, you can do so by donating commodities such blankets, bottles of water, clothing for both children and adults, and footwear of some kind.
